

Dear Pastors and Church Leaders,

Greetings in Christ!

Have you noticed the church being taken by storm by sexual sin? As we watch the headlines of our Christian culture and see the names of pastors who have fallen, it can be extremely discouraging and scary. If you're like me, you feel a deep need to do something about the issues of sexual sin in our church families. I love my church. I want it to be healthy. Are you like that too? Do you want to help? Do you need to seek help?

Sexual sin is a delicate and dangerous topic and the modern issues of pornography and online anonymity have made it a secret that hides beneath the surface of many believers' lives. As Pastors this leads to questions. Do you have an effective response plan for men who struggle with sexual sin? Do you know how to bring up the topic and preach on it? Do you have experience with the idea of sexual addiction and the practical steps that a church can take to help men recover their lives unto God?

Warfare of Grace can help. We exist to redeem men from the shame of sexual addiction into spiritual leadership by the biblical warfare of grace.

Warfare of Grace can help by training pastors, teaching your church family, providing one on one counsel for men struggling with addiction, providing a healthy community for those who need accountability, and by helping you to organize healing groups within your church context. We can partner through single events, leading groups, or as counsel for your leadership when difficult topics come to the surface. Fundamentally, we are available to be your response plan when you are confronted with sexual sin in your congregation.

In addition, I, Devon, have a personal mission to help pastors themselves get free from the grip of sexual sin. As a former youth pastor myself, I watched sexual sin destroy my ministry. God brought me to a place where I absolutely HAD to deal with it... and Praise Him for that! And now, He has unleashed me to aid other pastors. To reclaim their integrity and strengthen their ministries.

My ask is simple: would you be willing to meet with me and talk about the possibility of a partnership with Warfare of Grace? Whether you want to actively participate in our ministry or if you just want to come alongside and support financially, we greatly need your involvement. This war for Biblical Sexual Integrity needs soldiers, and Warfare of Grace is on the front line. We recognize that not everyone can become well versed in addiction recovery, and that's why we exist. We have included in this packet a few resources for marketing, and I encourage you to visit our website, warfareofgrace.com, to continue exploring the redeeming mission.

God bless you!
